

We would like to welcome Simon Hoehn, DPT

Simon Hoehn, DPT, is a native of Mount Vernon, Indiana where he was a three-sport athlete and Lily Scholar. Simon went on to attend Wabash College where he played football. After his undergraduate studies, he received his doctorate in physical therapy from Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis. Simon has worked with Division-1 athletes at Purdue University and has spent the last seven years teaching and working with patients on injury prevention, neuro-restorative rehabilitation, and post-operative physical therapy. Beyond his passion for physical therapy, Simon is a professionally trained business coach, a loving and supportive husband, and father of two beautiful daughters.

Practice Emphasis:

- ✔ Treatment of sports-related and musculoskeletal injuries
- ✔ Injury prevention and ergonomics for athletes
- ✔ Post-surgical physical therapy and rehabilitation
- ✔ Concussion management and treatment
- ✔ Mobilization exercise and stretching techniques

Special Procedures:

- ✔ Specialization in hip mobility and low back pain in athletes
- ✔ Neuro-rehabilitation for concussions and acute head injuries
- ✔ Joint and spine post-operative treatment and rehabilitation
- ✔ Diagnoses and treatment of soft tissue injuries and conditions
- ✔ Personal and professional coaching

Simon is committed to creating innovative strategies to help patients accomplish goals: mind, body, and spirit. Simon takes a holistic approach to medicine; helping patients heal and recover as quickly and efficiently as possible with decreased injury recurrence rates.

To schedule an appointment, call us at 844-999-DOCS (3627) Or visit us online a AptivaHealth.com

Now seeing patients at all locations